

GIFT OF MUSIC

Music, the learning of a musical instrument and the participation in a group ensemble, brings benefits to a student and their family that can be immeasurable. Unfortunately, opportunities for children in remote and rural areas can be few and the purchase of musical instruments beyond their family's means.

Gift of Music, an initiative of Rural Aid, came about from requests for help from a number of rural and indigenous schools, for musical instruments.

We need your help!!

We're confident that there are thousands of instruments across Australia, under beds or in cupboards, that aren't being used. So we're asking all Australians who have an instrument not in use, to donate it towards children in rural, remote and indigenous schools with need, so they might have the same opportunity as our children. If you would like to help Gift of Music with a cash donation, this is put towards the purchase of instruments that are on teachers' request lists and/or the repair of useful donated instruments. Even $100 would make a difference.

The gift of music will change a child's life. The gift of an instrument to a rural, remote or indigenous school in need, will change many children's lives.
